STRATHMORE WATERMARK CONFIGURATIONS

Head-to-Head

In this configuration, the head of one watermark reads to the head of the watermark above, which is upside down, on the master sheet. Therefore, on the master sheet half of the watermarks are readable while the other half appear upside down. The watermark dies run around the dandy roll, imprinting the watermark along the paper grain, as you can see in the diagram. The result: master sheets watermarked in the head-to-head configuration will be watermarked along the grain direction of the paper (lg,hh).

Long Grain (lg/hh)

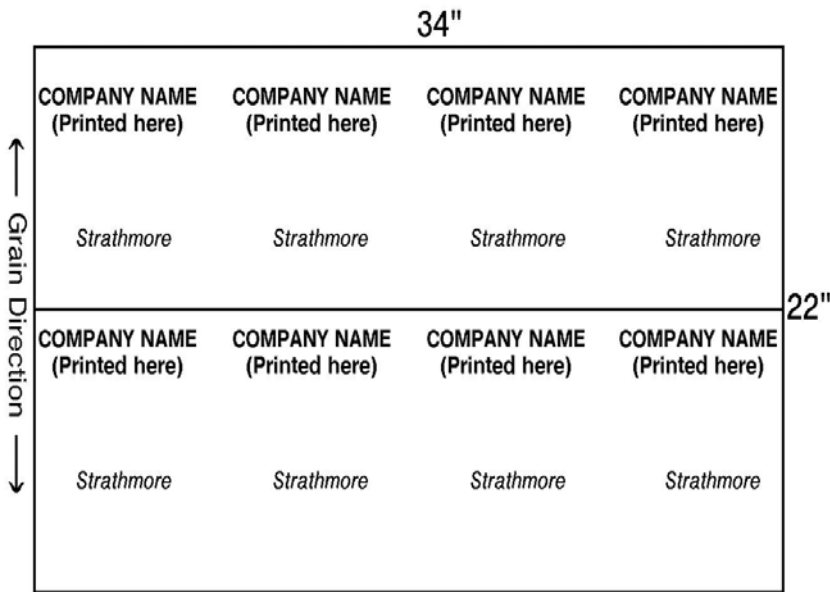

STRATHMORE WATERMARK CONFIGURATIONS

Head-to-Foot

The term head-to-foot configuration, means that on the master sheet the head, or top of the watermark, reads to the bottom, or foot, of the watermark above. Therefore, on the master sheet all watermarks read correctly from one side of the sheet. As you can see in the diagram, the watermark dies run across the dandy roll, imprinting the watermark perpendicular to the paper grain. The result: master sheets watermarked in the head-to-foot configuration will be watermarked along the grain direction of the paper (cg,hf).

Cross Grain (cg/hf)
